In Between Activity Review

(1) Using what stands out to you about yourself according to your DISC indicators, create a short personal statement or ideal work environment statement (the stress slide can help with words).

Marcus example (high DI, Low S, High C), "I want an environment where I can interact with people, my opinions are heard, my questions are answered and there is variety."

(2) Find time to meet with someone on the call and review your DISC "Communication Tips" pages together. Specially focus on areas where you are opposites. Discuss how this may impact your communication styles and work/personal dynamics?

Reflections and Goals

Answering these questions will help you get clearer about what is important to you.
You can save responses in your results profile by using the (+) button to open up a reflection text box.

- What would you do if you had all the resources and all the autonomy to do what you want in your life?  Add your reflection
- What problems do you want to solve in the world?  Add your reflection
- What type of leader would you want to be?  Add your reflection
- What do you want to be recognized for?  Add your reflection
- How do you stay organized currently?  Add your reflection

Set Goals

You are 90% more likely to achieve goals if you write them down. Use the reflection box below to write down your goals. Log back into your account in a year and see what you have achieved!

Indigo's Advice for Sheri

- It is important that Sheri figures out her cause and the role she wants to play in advancing that cause.
- This could include projects where she can help others, come up with solutions to problems facing her peers or community, and be recognized for what she did in finding solutions and advancing these causes.
- Sheri likes to take risks and tends to be careless with details that don't matter to her.
- She needs variety and a stimulating environment, and will perform best with a lot of freedom, choice, and recognition for work done well.

This is worth talking through with folks.

Certification, Reflection and Next Steps

---

In order to get your certificate, please do the following:

1. Personally work with at least 5 people (we recommend 10) who have taken the IndigoPathway Survey and guide them through their results. Write in the comments of the Course some of your experiences and questions while going through this process. If the question is sensitive, please email me at sheri@indigopathway.com.
2. Fill out our Reflection Assignment here.
3. Submit your feedback here.

Upon completion of these three tasks, you will receive a downloadable PDF of your certificate.
